

Exhibition Print Sale

Sale starts 2/16/2018 and ends 3/31/2018

About every other year I have an “Exhibition Print Sale” where I sell images that have been previously exhibited. These may be framed, matted or just a bare print.

Many of the images will have some signs of being exhibited such as a label on the back, pinholes on the corners of the images, markings on the back, slightly chipped frames and etc.

But the important thing is that the images and front mattes (if included) are in perfect condition.

These images are sold at a discount because they are not “new.”

Shipping:

I do not ship the very large framed images, they must be picked up from my home. It is impractical to ship framed images of these sizes.

Shipping Costs:

Within the US:	$15 per tube (loose images) $20 per box (matted and framed images)
Canada:	$20 per tube (loose images) $25 per box (matted and framed images)
International:	$20 per tube (loose images) No matted or framed images (too expensive to ship)

So once you’ve purchased an image and have paid to ship it in a box or tube, you can purchase additional images with no additional shipping costs (as long as they all fit!)

Below are the images that are available. Please be aware that these are limited quantities and so it is “first come, first served.”

How To Order:

1. Note the item number and description you would like
2. Email me at Cole@ColeThompsonPhotography.com
3. I’ll let you know if it’s available (you might list an alternative if it is not available)

Thanks!

The Ghosts of Auschwitz-Birkenau

What can be said about Auschwitz-Birkenau that hasn't already been said? What can be photographed at these same places that hasn't already been photographed?

As I thought about what had occurred there I wondered how any human could do such inhuman things, and then I recalled "The Mysterious Stranger" by Mark Twain. In this story a young boy named Huckleberry Finn is taken to a town in which he had formerly been a slave. He says that what he saw there was "infernal" in which "Satan reigned."

"No, it wasn't Saggio; it was human—quite distinctly human."

Some people said that no other creature on the planet breathes another's life; that's why we're not humans.

I had not intended to photograph during my tour of the camp, but in just being there a few minutes, I felt compelled. With every step I walked, I saw the people whose lives had walked in exactly the same fashion as mine. I wondered if their spirits still lingered there today.

And so I photographed photos.

The Angel Gabriel

This is the Angel Gabriel. I took him on the Pier at Beach Grove while was making French film from a train car. He was handsome as if he had been that if he would only see with a photograph, I would stop his book.

The man was wonderful and I took a 30 second exposure as that exposure disappeared except Gabriel. He then asked if the model had his hair and I said that I would.

Gabriel and I then went to a restaurant to share a meal, he ordered steak and wine to drink his hair. He was simple, kind and a pleasure to talk with.

I asked Gabriel how I might contact him, as I would share his name from the rest of the photographer. He said I should give a name to who I would see it, that he had everything that he needed.

Then the Angel Gabriel walked away, turned and saying his only two possessions a Bible and a book of...

*Do not forget to be available to arrange, for plenty some for our entertainment again someone. *Welcome 110
